Setting the standard for the world. At every level, in every operation, the men and women of AOS are dedicated to providing nothing less than the finest support possible for the world's most advanced and complex aviation system. This demands unwavering integrity. Unparalleled responsiveness and cooperation. The courage and commitment to seek and speak the truth in all matters. And the self-motivation to strive for constant improvement.

OUR MISSION

Enable the safe and efficient movement of aircraft through our nation's skies by combining our diverse strengths and applying our unique insights, skills and leadership.

OUR VISION

To influence and improve the future of aircraft movement and separation technologies through our knowledge and experience.

To standardize, simplify and enhance our diverse systems and services, providing increased capacity at reduced cost.

To ensure our systems set the standards for safety and security, protecting the vitality of global commerce.
